BISANADI NATIONAL RESERVE

Paradise Unspoiled

INTRODUCTION

In the vast arid wilderness north of Meru National Park lies the Bisanadi National Reserve that acts as a wildlife dispersal area for Meru National Park and is part of the Mwingi, Meru, Kora, and Bisanadi conservation area.

Located on the border of Meru National Park known as 'Kinna' the border between Meru and Bisanadi Parks is the traditional division between the Meru and Borana people.

KEY ATTRACTIONS & ACTIVITIES

The hot and arid bush land is host to many species of mammals including lions, elephants, cheetahs, rhinos, buffalos and over 400 species of birds.

The reserve is dotted with scenic wilderness habitats ideal for game viewing, fishing, sight seeing and boating on River Tana and Rojewero River. Nature and wilderness lovers will be delighted in camping under the stars in this remote but breathtaking space.

ACCOMMODATION

Stay in the Wild, explore, create memories

The reserve doesn't offer any self-catering accommodation options, but visitors can select from other available accommodation options outside the reserve e.g. Meru Camp near Meru N. Park Leopard Rock Safari Lodge
